

BENNERLEY FIELDS SCHOOL - HOME SCHOOL AGREEMENT POLICY

In accordance with the Government's advice the home-school agreement for Bennerley Fields School will contain:

- a definition of the school's aims and values;
- the school's responsibilities in relation to all pupils of statutory age;
- parents' and carers' responsibilities while their child is registered at the school;
- the school's expectations of its pupils.

The agreement will cover the following:

The Standard of Education

Parents and carers should expect that all pupils will achieve to the best of their ability in all areas. Students will leave our school with a range of appropriate qualifications. All pupils have a right to a broad, balanced, differentiated curriculum.

The Ethos of the School

Pupils and staff are expected to treat each other and the environment with respect. It is the aim of the school that pupils should be a positive role in the community on leaving school and that this should be mirrored in their contribution to the school community whilst a pupil. Pupils and staff will make a contribution to the school's ongoing development. Parents and carers will work in co-operation with the school by participating as far as possible in the education of their child and in furthering their educational and vocational opportunities. Parents and carers can support pupils in gaining a better understanding of our culture, seeking to support and value others and having regard to the moral codes fulfilled through our Bennerley Attitudes. Parents and carers are expected to ensure that pupils attend school suitably equipped and meet the requirements of the school's dress code.

Regular and punctual attendance is valued by the school and seen as particularly important in relation to the values of society in general and the work place in particular. Home-school agreement procedures therefore place great emphasis on promoting regular and punctual attendance.

Positive engagement is the cornerstone of ensuring a happy and safe school environment. Promoting good behaviour and pupils making good choices is a shared responsibility between parents/carers, pupils and school. Parents and carers play a vital role in fostering good behaviour. Home influence is critical in shaping pupil attitude and behaviour.

Homework is of increasing value in promoting consolidating, generalising and extending learning outside the classroom. Parents and carers should support their child if needed to complete the homework set each week.

Admission

Parents and carers should visit the school prior to a place being agreed, in order to ascertain that they are happy with what the school provides and that they understand the shared commitment to their child's education.

Information exchange between parents and carers and school is essential. A diary of key dates throughout the school year should be published for parents in addition to the admissions checklist currently undertaken. The information we send should ensure access for parents or carers who have literacy difficulties. A diary and email system is used to aid communication between home and school.

Equal Opportunities

Bennerley Fields School promotes and ensures equal opportunities for all members of the school community, irrespective of their background, race, class, gender or their individual special needs.

Commitment by pupils is very important to the success of an agreement.
